

Invitation to the

Unveiling of a new poetry wall in the Archipel neighbourhood

The Archipel Poetry Foundation and the HSV International Primary School have joined forces to realize a new wall poem in the Archipel neighbourhood of The Hague.

We have chosen a poem by Emily Dickinson and its translation in Dutch by Peter Verstegen. The new poetry wall will feature the letter Caecilia by typographer Peter Matthias Noordzij.

Schoolchildren, parents and staff will participate in the unveiling festivities, which will therefore start 8.30 AM. We're delighted that Ingrid van Engelshoven, Deputy Mayor and Alderman for Knowledge Economy, International Affairs, Youth and Education will join us. After the ceremony we will enjoy a cup of coffee at the premises.

We cordially invite you to join us for the unveiling on Wednesday, October 26th, 8.30 AM at the HSV, Nassaulaan 26, The Hague.

About Archipel Poetry Foundation

The Archipel Poetry Foundation aims to embellish beautiful walls in The Hague's historic Archipel quarter with good poetry. The design of the poetry walls is stylish yet modern. Each poem is painted in a different well-known font designed by a renowned Dutch typographer. Thus with the project we not only build a walking route of good poetry, but also of outstanding typography.

The project is received with great enthusiasm and support of neighbourhood citizens, The Hague government, poetry supporters, typography aficionados, poets and typographers alike.

As our neighbourhood is a firm favourite with expats, we have decided to choose not only Dutch but also English language poetry. The project already shows poetry by William Carlos Williams, Derek Walcott and Siegfried Sassoon.
